Chapter 01

The Brand

NIPO is a premium Japanese-Brazilian restaurant on Newcastle Quayside, rooted in the cultural heritage of the Nipo-Brasileiro community. Japanese precision, sushi craft, robata cooking and ingredient discipline — met by Brazilian warmth, fire and generous hospitality.

Precision, finished by fire.

NIPO sits between the elegance of a premium Japanese restaurant and the warmth of Brazilian fire-cooking — atmospheric enough for the Quayside, refined enough to feel considered, adult and distinctive.

It is never generic fusion. Not a theme restaurant, not a steakhouse replacement, not "Rio downstairs". NIPO is a refined, evening-led dining experience built around precision, fire, sushi, craft and cultural depth.

POSITIONING

A Japanese-Brazilian restaurant where sushi, robata and fire-cooked signatures meet warm Brazilian hospitality.

TAGLINE

JAPANESE PRECISION.
BRAZILIAN FIRE.

Always set in letterspaced capitals. Always with both full stops.

PERSONALITY

NIPO should always feel:

Refined · Warm · Atmospheric
Confident · Premium · Textured
Botanical · Culturally grounded
Social but not loud.
Dramatic but not gimmicky.

The mood is evening-led, warm and immersive: deep green-black walls, bamboo texture, brass details, soft florals, sushi craft, robata fire and polished hospitality.

MESSAGE PILLARS

- Japanese precision
Sushi, knife work, balance, restraint, craft and presentation.

A real Japanese-Brazilian cultural story, inspired by São Paulo's Japanese-Brazilian community.
- Quayside atmosphere

Chapter 02

Heritage

From Japan to Brazil, and from São Paulo to the Quayside — the Nipo-Brasileiro story is the reason NIPO exists, and the depth beneath every design decision.

02 · HERITAGE

Two cultures, one table.

Brazil is home to the largest Japanese community outside Japan, centred on São Paulo. Over a century of migration produced the Nipo-Brasileiro culture: Japanese discipline and craft, folded into Brazilian generosity, produce and fire. NIPO brings that meeting point to Newcastle.

Use the heritage story with care and credibility. It is a cultural foundation — never a costume, never a gimmick, never a carnival reference.

- Speak of craft, migration and community — not "exotic" novelty.
- Reference São Paulo's Japanese-Brazilian community where the story needs an anchor.
- Blend the cultures with respect; never caricature either.

Chapter 03

Logo

A cherry blossom holding a flame. The blossom is Japanese elegance, craft and precision; the flame is Brazilian fire, warmth and cooking over heat. The gold wordmark carries the premium restaurant feel.

03 · LOGO

The primary lock-up

The preferred expression of the brand: red blossom mark, ivory flame, gold NIPO wordmark and letterspaced tagline, always on NIPO Deep Green Black #15231F. This is the version for launch, signage, menu covers and campaign lead assets — it holds contrast at distance and feels premium without becoming minimal.

ELEMENT	SPECIFICATION
Blossom mark	Deep Blossom Red · #B02028 — logo use only
Flame	Warm Ivory · #F7F1DE with gold core
Wordmark	Premium Gold · #F0E098 — never retypeset
Tagline	Ivory or white, letterspaced capitals
Backdrop	NIPO Deep Green Black · #15231F

CLEARSPACE & MINIMUM SIZE

CONTEXT	MINIMUM WIDTH — STACKED LOCK-UP
Print	22 mm (drop the tagline below 30 mm)
Digital	120 px (drop the tagline below 160 px)
Mark only	8 mm / 32 px — use for avatars, favicons, foils

APPROVED VARIANTS

Full colour on nightfall or ivory. Single-colour gold or ivory mark for foils, embossing, glassware etching and interior-led assets where red would pull toward Rio. Never place the full-colour mark on sage, teal or photographic backgrounds without the nightfall backplate.

Protect the mark

The lock-up is fixed artwork. Never rebuild, restyle or decorate it. The examples below are prohibited in all contexts.

✗ DO NOT ROTATE OR TILT

✗ DO NOT STRETCH OR CONDENSE

✗ NO RED OR HEAVY COLOUR FIELDS

✗ DO NOT RECOLOUR OUTSIDE THE PALETTE

✗ NO DROP SHADOWS OR EFFECTS

✗ NO BUSY PHOTOGRAPHIC BACKGROUNDS

Chapter 04

Colour

Nightfall leads. Deep Green Black #15231F is NIPO's foundation — darker, more botanical and more ownable than pure black — with gold as detail, ivory as breath, and blossom red held in reserve.

Balance & behaviour

RED — HOLD IT BACK

- The blossom mark, small artwork highlights, select launch details.
- Never large backgrounds, buttons, price callouts or campaign blocks.
- If a layout starts to feel like Rio, remove red first.

GOLD — DETAIL, NOT DECORATION

- Wordmark, key lines, menu section titles, thin dividers, icons, foils.
- Avoid full gold backgrounds; it should glint, not glare.

IVORY, SAGE & TEAL — THE BREATH

- Ivory: menu paper, body panels, light digital sections, invitations.
- Sage / teal: botanical patterns, cocktail content, interior-led visuals, and wherever red is too strong.

Chapter 05

Typography

Elegant, high-contrast and premium — closer to a fine hospitality brand than a casual pan-Asian restaurant. Supporting type is clean, modern and tightly controlled, with generous letterspacing.

Playfair Display

DISPLAY SERIF — HEADLINES, MENU DISH NAMES, CHAPTER TITLES · WEIGHTS 400-700

GOTHAM

SUPPORTING SANS — TAGLINES, NAVIGATION, MENU DETAIL, BODY COPY · WEIGHTS 300-500

SPECIMEN

Fire-grilled picanha, chimichurri & charred lime

ROBATA · SIGNATURE CUTS

Rested over embers and finished at the pass — served with warm farofa and a soft botanical salad.

RULES

- The NIPO wordmark is fixed logotype artwork — never retype it in any font.
- Taglines, navigation and section labels: Gotham capitals, tracked +300 to +400.
- Headlines and dish names: Playfair Display, sentence case, tight leading.
- Body copy: Gotham Light/Book, 8-10 pt, generous line height.
- Avoid novelty "Japanese" typefaces, distressed fonts, tropical display faces or anything playful.
- Gold type on nightfall; ink on ivory. Never gold on ivory for small text.

Chapter 06

Art & Pattern

A painted world of ink-wash botanicals, gold leaf and blossom — where Japanese waves meet Brazilian foliage. Brand artwork adds depth where photography cannot.

USAGE

- Artwork frames content; it never sits behind body copy at full strength.
- Keep gold-leaf details visible — they carry the premium feel.
- Icons are used one or two at a time as gold or sage line details, never as dense wallpaper.
- Blossom-pink tones live inside artwork only; they are not a brand colour.

Photography

Warm, rich and atmospheric. Low light, deep green-black backdrops, brass reflections, fire and craft — every frame should feel like evening on the Quayside.

ALWAYS

- Low, warm lighting
- Dark green-black backdrops
- Brass & gold reflections
- Bamboo, cane, natural texture
- Sushi close-ups, robata flame
- Fire-cooked picanha
- Hands plating, slicing, pouring
- Intimate tables & botanicals

NEVER

- ◆ Bright white sushi-bar looks
- ◆ Tropical carnival imagery
- ◆ Generic steakhouse shots
- ◆ Loud party-restaurant scenes
- ◆ Heavy smoke clichés
- ◆ Red-heavy compositions
- ◆ Buffet / unlimited cues
- ◆ Harsh flash or daylight studio

THE DINING MOMENT

Guests raise a glass in warm, low light — relaxed, social and quietly celebratory. The mood stays intimate and considered, never loud.

*"Crafted with precision.
Finished by fire."*

Chapter 08

Voice

Concise, premium and warm. Confident, not salesy. Descriptive, not overexplained. Cultural, not gimmicky.

Guardrails

The fastest way to protect NIPO is to know what it is not. When in doubt, return to nightfall, gold and craft.

- ◇ NIPO is never presented as a steakhouse.
- ◇ NIPO is never described as generic Brazilian-and-Japanese fusion.
- ◇ NIPO never looks or sounds like "Rio downstairs" — it is a sibling to Rio, not a sub-brand.
- ◇ Red never dominates; #15231F leads the brand world.
- ◇ The Nipo-Brasileiro heritage story is used with care and credibility — never as a gimmick.
- ◇ Japanese characters are verified by a fluent speaker before any production.
